

Running Head: PERFECT JOB

Perfect Job

[Writer Name]

[Institute Name]

Perfect Job

It is a reality that the importance of perfect job in the life of every individual is quite considerable. There are following features that describe a perfect job.

Satisfaction

Different people can define perfect job in different manner, but the mostly defined perfect job is from the aspect of satisfaction, those jobs which provides satisfaction are consider most perfect job. It has observed that satisfaction makes a job as perfect job (Bittner, 2003).

Specialty Competency

Area of expertise or competency for the job, make the job perfect. For instance the in an individual is specialize in medical the most perfect job for him will be supposed to be medical relevant rather than engineering or any other than medical (Bittner, 2003).

Values and belief

Value and belief act as a motivation tool, therefore if an individual's belief any job more valued then this job will consider perfect job for the person, for instance if an individual belief that teaching is a noble job, then the teaching is perfect job for him or her.

Availability of Opportunities

It has experienced that the characteristic of perfect job is that there should be more and more availability of opportunities for continuous growth as well as learning (Bittner, 2003).

Pay and compensation

The job should provide financial support as well as there should be compensation and facilities available such as medical insurance, traveling allowance rearwards etc.

References

Bittner, Robert (2003); Your perfect job; Shaw Books; ISBN0877880220, 9780877880226.